INDEPENDENT ACCOUNTANT’S REVIEW REPORT

To the Officers and Board of Trustees,
Congregation “Temple Sinai” and Affiliate,
New Orleans, Louisiana.

We have reviewed the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Congregation “Temple Sinai” and Affiliate (“Temple Sinai”) (a nonprofit organization), which comprise the consolidated statement of financial position as of June 30, 2025, and the related consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended, and the related notes to the consolidated financial statements. A review includes primarily applying analytical procedures to management’s financial data and making inquiries of Temple Sinai’s management. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion regarding the consolidated financial statements as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Management’s Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountant’s Responsibility

Our responsibility is to conduct the review engagement in accordance with Statements on Standards for Accounting and Review Services promulgated by the Accounting and Review Services Committee of the AICPA. Those standards require us to perform procedures to obtain limited assurance as a basis for reporting whether we are aware of any material modifications that should be made to the consolidated financial statements for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. We believe that the results of our procedures provide a reasonable basis for our conclusion.

We are required to be independent of Temple Sinai and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements related to our review.

Basis for Qualified Conclusion

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that property and equipment be capitalized at cost and that depreciation expense be recorded over the useful lives of the assets. Management has informed us that depreciation of the buildings and other certain assets held by Temple Sinai has not been provided for in the consolidated financial statements. Management has not determined the effect of this departure from accounting principles generally in the United States of America on the consolidated financial statements.

Qualified Conclusion

Based on our review, except for the effect of the matter described in the Basic for Qualified Conclusion paragraph, we are not aware of any other material modifications that should be made to the accompanying consolidated financial statements in order for them to be in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Supplementary Information

The supplementary information contained in Schedule 1 (Schedule of Compensation, Benefits, and Other Payments to Agency Head or Chief Executive Office), as required by Louisiana Revised Statute 24:513(a)(3), is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the consolidated financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from, and relates directly to, the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the consolidated financial statements. The supplementary information has been subjected to the review procedures applied in our review of the consolidated financial statements. We are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the supplementary information. We have not audited the supplementary information and, accordingly, do not express an opinion on such information.

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTSCongregation “Temple Sinai” and Affiliate

See Independent Accountant’s Review Report

Note 1 - ORGANIZATION AND NATURE OF ACTIVITIES

Congregation “Temple Sinai” and Affiliate (“Temple Sinai”) is a nonprofit organization established in 1870. Its purpose is to provide religious services to its members who reside principally in the New Orleans area. Programs include worship services, youth and family programming, religious school, and community outreach and events.

The Congregation Temple Sinai Foundation (the “Foundation”) is a Louisiana not-for-profit entity which was organized to receive and maintain funds donated to it and Temple Sinai for the benefit of and to carry out the purpose of Temple Sinai. The Foundation is a 509(a)3 supporting organization. The Foundation is governed by a board of directors consisting of past presidents of Temple Sinai.

Note 2 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The consolidated financial statements of Temple Sinai are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) and prepared on the accrual basis of accounting and, accordingly, reflect all significant receivables, payables, and other liabilities. However, depreciation was not recorded. This is a departure from accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The significant accounting policies used are described as follows:

a. Financial Statement Presentation

Temple Sinai reports information regarding its consolidated financial position and activities according to two classes of net assets: net assets without donor restrictions and net assets with donor restrictions. In addition, Temple Sinai is required to present a consolidated statement of cash flows.

b. Consolidation

The accompanying consolidated financial statements show the consolidated assets, liabilities, and transactions of Temple Sinai and the Foundation.

The activities and resulting balances of the Foundation relate to the investments of the endowment funds. All intercompany transactions and resulting balances have been eliminated in the consolidated financial statements.

c. Cash

Cash consists of both unrestricted and restricted balances. Unrestricted cash balances represent cash available for general purposes. Restricted cash balances, of $40,582 as of June 30, 2025, consist of deposits held in custody for religious organizations.

d. Use of Estimates

The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

e. Contributed Support

Temple Sinai recognizes all contributed support received as income in the period received. Contributed support is reported as contributions without donor restrictions or contributions with donor restrictions depending on the existence of donor stipulations that limit the use of the support.

When a donor restriction expires, that is, when a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the Consolidated Statement of Activities as net assets released from restrictions. Contributions with donor restrictions that are received in the same year the donor stipulations that limit the use of the support are met, are recorded as contributions without donor restrictions.

Satisfaction of use restrictions and related releases of restricted net assets totaled $244,828 during the year ended June 30, 2025 (see Note 13).

f. Member Fees Receivable

Member fees receivable consists of various fees due by the congregants and are stated at the amounts Temple Sinai expects to collect. Temple Sinai generally does not require collateral and maintains an allowance for expected credit losses for estimated losses resulting from the inability of its congregants to make the required payments. If the financial condition of the congregants were to deteriorate, adversely affecting their ability to make payments, additional allowances would be required. Management has determined that an allowance for credit losses was not needed as of June 30, 2025.

Temple Sinai estimates credit losses associated with member fees receivable using an expected credit loss model, which utilizes an aging schedule methodology based on historical information and adjusted for asset-specific considerations, current economic conditions and reasonable and supportable forecasts.

Temple Sinai's approach considers a number of factors, including overall historical credit losses and payment experience, as well as current collection trends such as write-off frequency. Temple Sinai also considers other qualitative factors such as current and forecasted conditions.

Member fees receivable totaled $44,942 and $55,486 as of June 30, 2025 and 2024, respectively.

Activities for the year ended June 30, 2025 is as follows:

Beginning allowance for credit losses	$ -
Credit losses	-
Write offs	-
Ending allowance for credit losses	$ -

g. Contributions Receivable

Contributions receivable consist of unconditional promises to give and are recorded in the year the promise is made. Unconditional promises to give that are expected to be collected within one year are recorded at their net realizable value. Unconditional promises to give expected to be collected in future years are recorded at the present value of estimated future cash flows. The discounts on those amounts are computed using risk-adjusted interest rates applicable to the years in which the promises are received. Amortization of the discount is included in contribution revenue. The discount will be recognized as contribution revenue in future fiscal years as the discount is amortized over the duration of the contributions.

g. Contributions Receivable (Continued)

Conditional promises to give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met and the promises become unconditional. As of June 30, 2025, there were no outstanding conditional promises to give.

h. Investments

Investments are reported at fair value. Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. See Note 6 for a discussion of fair value measurements.

Unrealized gains and losses on investments are included in the Consolidated Statement of Activities as increases or decreases in net assets without restriction unless their use is restricted.

i. Property and Equipment

Property and equipment is carried at cost or, if donated, at estimated fair values at the date of donation. Repairs and maintenance are charged to expense as incurred; major renewals and betterments are capitalized.

j. Donated Materials and Donated Services

Donations of property and equipment are recorded as support at their estimated fair values at the date of donation. Such donations are reported as unrestricted support unless the donor has restricted the donated asset to a specific purpose. Assets donated with explicit restrictions regarding their use and contributions of cash that must be used to acquire property and equipment are reported as restricted support. Absent donor stipulations regarding how long those donated assets must be maintained, the Temple Sinai reports expirations of donor restrictions when the donated or acquired assets are placed in service as instructed by the donor. Temple Sinai reclassifies net assets with donor restrictions to net assets without donor restrictions at that time. There were no donations of property and equipment during year ended June 30, 2025.

Donated professional services are recorded as contributions at their estimated market value. For the year ended June 30, 2025, there were no donations of professional services. A number of volunteers have also donated significant amounts of their time in Temple Sinai's program services and in its fundraising campaigns; however, no amounts have been reflected in the statements for these donated services because no objective basis is available to measure the value of such services.

k. Revenue Recognition

Contributions and grants are recognized when cash, securities, or other assets, and unconditional promises to give, or notification of a beneficial interest is received. Conditional promises to give are recognized when the conditions on which they depend have been substantially met.

Member fees are recognized as revenue in the period in which the member fees are due by the member.

As of June 30, 2025 and 2024, deferred dues revenue was $25,100 and $23,142, respectively.

Revenue from exchange transactions is recognized when the related performance obligation has been met. Temple Sinai has the following exchange transactions:

Religious School Tuition: Temple Sinai conducts educational programs throughout the year for which fees are charged. The related performance obligation is satisfied, and revenue is recognized as the programs are completed.

l. Income Tax Status

Temple Sinai is exempt from Federal income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

m. Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows

Temple Sinai reports all cash equivalents, including money market funds, as investments (see Note 6).

n. Subsequent Events

Management evaluates events occurring subsequent to the date of the consolidated financial statements in determining the accounting for and disclosure of transactions and events that affect the consolidated financial statements. Subsequent events have been evaluated through June 29, 2026, which is the date the consolidated financial statements were available to be issued.

Note 3 - CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK ARISING FROM CASH DEPOSITS IN EXCESS OF INSURED LIMITS

The Temple Sinai maintains its cash in bank deposit accounts at local banking institutions. These accounts may at times exceed federally-insured deposit limits. Temple Sinai has not experienced any losses in such accounts and believes it is not exposed to any significant credit risk related to cash. The balances are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation up to $250,000. As of June 30, 2025, there were no Temple Sinai cash balances in excess of FDIC insured limits.

Note 4 - CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVABLE

Contributions receivable consist of capital campaign pledges to be used for property and equipment improvements to Temple Sinai. These pledges are included in the consolidated financial statements as contributions receivable after discounting projected future cash flows to present value using a discount rate of 3.00% as determined by management to be an estimated market rate of interest.

Contributions receivable as of June 30, 2025 consist of the following:

Contributions receivable	$ 102,037
Less:
Unamortized discount	(3,149)
Contributions receivable, net	$ 98,888
Amounts due in:
Less than one year	$ 60,845

Total	$ 102,037

No allowance for uncollectible contributions was considered necessary as of June 30, 2025.

Note 6 - FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The framework for measuring fair value provides a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB ASC 820 are described as follows:

Level 1 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that Temple Sinai has the ability to access.

Level 2 - Inputs to the valuation methodology include:

- quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets;
- quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets;
- inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability;
- inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specified (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 - Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value. There have been no changes in the methodologies used as of June 30, 2025.

- Cash equivalent accounts include bank money market accounts and a government money market fund. Bank money market accounts are valued at the amounts reported by the respective banks. The government money market fund is valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund.
- Mutual funds are valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held are open-end mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily net asset value (NAV) and to transact at that price. The mutual funds held are deemed to be actively traded.

- U.S. government obligations are valued at the closing price reported on the active market on which the obligations are traded.
- Common stocks are valued at the closing price reported on the active market on which the individual securities are traded.
- Corporate bonds valued using pricing models maximizing the use of observable inputs for similar obligations. This includes basing value of yields currently available on comparable obligations of issuers with similar credit ratings.

These methods may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, while Temple Sinai believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine the fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

Assets measured at fair value on a recurring basis are comprised of the following:

Description	Total Assets Measured At Fair Value	Based on
		Quoted Prices in Active Markets (Level 1)	Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)
Cash equivalent accounts	$ 152,019	$ 152,019	$ -	$ -
Common stocks	2,094,498	2,094,498	-	-
Corporate bonds	638,912	638,912	-	-
Mutual funds	755,314	755,314	-	-
U.S. government obligations	343,666	343,666	-	-
Totals	$ 3,984,409	$ 3,984,409	$ -	$ -

As of June 30, 2025, there were no financial assets or financial liabilities measured at fair value on a non-recurring basis.

Note 11 - ENDOWMENT

The Board of Directors (the “Board”) of Temple Sinai has a strong fiduciary duty to manage the assets of Temple Sinai’s endowment and believes it should be performed in a prudent manner. The Board recognizes that the intent of the endowment is to protect the donor with respect to expenditures from endowments. If this intent is clearly expressed by the donor, whether the intent is in a written gift instrument or not, the intent of the donor is followed. Earnings, including appreciation, that are not required by the donor to be reinvested in corpus are maintained in net assets without donor restrictions.

The Endowments. Temple Sinai’s endowment fund includes a restricted fund established for the purpose of generating income to support general operations. As required by GAAP, net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions.

Interpretation of Relevant Law. Temple Sinai is subject to the State Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (SPMIFA) and, thus, classifies amounts in its donor-restricted endowment fund as net assets with donor restrictions because those net assets cannot be spent, except as distributed according to the preceding paragraphs. Temple Sinai has interpreted SPMIFA as not requiring the maintenance of purchasing power of the original gift amount contributed to the endowment fund unless a donor stipulates the contrary. As a result of this interpretation, when reviewing its donor-restricted endowment funds, Temple Sinai considers a fund to be underwater if the fair value of the fund is less than the sum of:

- the original value of initial and subsequent gift amounts donated to the fund, and
- accumulations to the endowment, made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument as the time the accumulation is added to the fund.

The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in net assets with donor restrictions is classified as net assets without donor restrictions in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by SPMIFA. In accordance with SPMIFA, Temple Sinai considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

- The duration and preservation of the fund.
- The purposes of the donor-restricted endowment fund.
- General economic conditions.
- The possible effect of inflation and deflation.
- The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments.
- Other resources of Temple Sinai.
- The investment policies of Temple Sinai.

The composition of endowment net assets with donor restrictions as of June 30, 2025 is as follows:

Changes in endowment net assets for the years ended June 30, 2025 are as follows:

	Without Donor Restrictions	With Donor Restrictions	Totals

Underwater Endowment Funds. From time to time, the fair value of assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that either the donor or SPMIFA requires Temple Sinai to retain as a fund of perpetual duration. These deficiencies can result from unfavorable market fluctuations that occur after the investment of contributions with perpetual duration. There were no such deficiencies in endowment net assets with donor restrictions as of June 30, 2025.

Return Objectives and Risk Parameters and Strategies Employed for Achieving Objectives. The Investment Committee's philosophy regarding Foundation assets shall combine both the preservation of principal and moderate risk-taking. The Investment Committee recognizes that risk, volatility, and the potential of loss in purchasing power (due to inflation) are present to some degree with all types of investment vehicles. While high levels of risk are to be avoided, the assumption of moderate level of risk is warranted and encouraged in order to achieve satisfactory results consistent with the objectives and fiduciary character of the Temple Sinai over a full market cycle. The Investment Committee believes that market timing is not an objective but rather a consequence of shifting the assets mix to meet the investment structure.
